The Records that Tragedy Leave Behind

Was your ancestor a victim of a tragedy? Sinking ships like the Lusitania or Titanic, geological events like the 1907 San Francisco Earthquake, and weather events like the Children's Blizzard can mean destruction and death. Did those events touch your family? Where are the records to help tell that story? Using case studies, we will explore the events and the records they left behind.

Gena Philibert-Ortega holds a Master's degree in Interdisciplinary Studies (Psychology and Women's Studies) and a Master's degree in Religion. Presenting on various subjects involving genealogy, women's studies, and social history, Gena has spoken to groups throughout the United States as well as virtually to audiences worldwide. Gena is the author of hundreds of articles published in genealogy newsletters and magazines including FGS Forum, APG Quarterly, Internet Genealogy, Family Chronicle, Family Tree Magazine. Her writings can also be found on her blogs, Gena's Genealogy. Cemeteries of the Eastern Sierra (Arcadia Publishing, 2007) and Putting the Pieces Together. Gena is the editor of the Utah Genealogical Association's journal Crossroads. She serves as a board member of the Utah Genealogical Association.
