Help! The Courthouse Burned! Now I Can't Research My Family

A U.S. county courthouse is one of the genealogist's first introductions to U.S. research and the "go to" repository for records that lead into an ancestor's daily life and helps establish the backbone of family history research. This presentation discusses strategies for success in finding original and replacement records lost due to fire, theft, flood, mold, rodents, tornado, hurricane, over-zealous "spring-cleaning clerks, and any other destruction in a county courthouse or other research repository. Learn strategies and techniques to further your research success.

Pamela has enjoyed conducting personal and client research for more than 25 years using a wide variety of repositories and record sources. She has presented genealogy lectures at national conferences, regional conferences and one day seminars as well as local society meetings. Pamela's genealogical focus is Midwest research, methodology and unique record sources. She is a member of the National Genealogical Society, Genealogical Speaker's Guild, and the Association of Professional Genealogists.
