Using Google for Genealogy—Google Search and Beyond

Google has many tools that can assist you with your genealogy research--tools that go beyond simple searching for ancestors. Learn more about those tools and how they can benefit you!

Diane is a native Californian whose ancestors all come from the Azores. She was born in and grew up in Hayward and has remained in the Bay Area since.

Diane got serious about genealogy when she retired in 2011, following in the footsteps of her husband, Bill George, who started in earnest after he retired. Both had done some research earlier, but it was a lot harder because certain websites and software did not exist then.

Diane earned her BA from Cal State East Bay, worked for a while then got her Juris Doctor degree from Boalt Hall, UC Berkeley. She practiced law for about 23 years. After retiring from her law practice she became an information Technology Consultant at Cal State East Bay, until her retirement in 2011. Presently Diane teaches computer classes about Microsoft Office products several times a month at the Castro Valley Library and maintains websites for two non-profits. At the San Ramon Valley Genealogical Society, she is the leader of the Azores Research SIG and assists with the Legacy and FamilySearch SIGS. Diane is interested in the use of technology for genealogy and in encouraging people to use that technology.
