Sailing to America: Passenger Lists Before 1900

Travel by ships has occurred around the world for hundreds of years. Gaining passage on ships in earlier years was costly, unless an alternative way to pay was made available to those seeking emigration opportunities. Indentured Servitude often filled the need for millions of orphans, prisoners, single men and women, the emotionally unstable, and even families. Sailing to America: Passenger Lists Before 1900 features emigration and immigration record types, major ports, tips for finding an ancestor's homeland, useful websites, and online search topics.

Sharon D. Monson - is a Professional Genealogist and Public Speaker. She is the author of Shortcut to Genealogy Sources, and creator of the Genealogy Kit, complete with a newly designed six-generation Ancestor Chart. She is a frequent conference and webinar presenter. Her extensive research experience in Courthouses, Archives, and the Family History Library spans 40+ years. Sharon's classes cover sources, methodology, and research tips to make your library and online searches successful
